California HealthCare Foundation

The California HealthCare Foundation's goal is to ensure that all Californian's have access to affordable quality health care. Along with the Department of Social and Behavioral Sciences at the University of California, San Francisco, the Foundation sponsors a free Web site that provides ratings of long term care providers in the state. It helps individuals to choose among options such as assisted living facilities, home health care agencies, and skilled nursing homes. It is easy to use and will search for facilities by ZIP code.
